Short Description

Smith Corona Display Dictionary Typewriter, Easy To Use, Easy To Store

Description

NOW DISCOUNTED: This typewriter is on the scratch-n-dent list because the dictionary does not work--meaning it thinks that every word is misspelled, and beeps. This can be turned off, but it's on by default, and so it has to be turned off every time the typewriter is restarted. Also, we have no correction tape for this typewriter--although it can be found, usually, on Ebay.

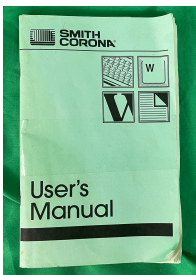

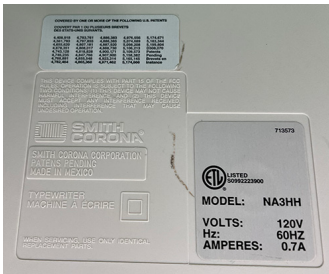

This is a very simple typewriter, a lot like the Brother SX4000. It has a display, and you can type in line mode or in normal mode (in other words, you can make the typewriter print as you hit the keys, or you can write an entire line and it won't print until you've hit the return key.)

It's got a dictionary function, which, when activated, will beep every time it senses a misspelled word. You might think that's useless if you're in normal type mode, but this typewriter also comes with a letter, word, or even entire line erase function. It works pretty well, and erased letters are barely noticeable.

It's light, compact, and easy to carry around. The manual I have was printed in 1995, which is why I'm listing this as having been made in 95--I honestly don't know when it was made.

If ordering outside the Cincinnati area, there'll be an added $30 for shipping. If you're local, call me and set up an appointment, and I can give you a full demonstration, along with a crash-course on using manual typewriters.

Again... it's the secret to design from Smith Corona! Now we have a character display. This display will allow you to type, correct, and correct. It's a new way to ensure that nothing is ever getting on paper.
 The display will also allow you to take full advantage of the 50,000 word spell checker dictionary. That's right! It will help you find the right spelling or correct it for you.
 And if you do not know how to spell it correctly, see the display to display the correct spelling and automatically insert it.
 It also allows you to make corrections on paper as well as on the display. You can correct one character at a time, or you can correct a line, or you can correct a word. You can also correct a line, or you can correct a word.
 The display will correct for you if you press the correct key.
 Here is a brief list of other helpful features:
 * Bold Print to highlight text for more emphasis.
 * Bold Underline for emphasis on important words.
 * Bold Underline for emphasis on important words.
 * Bold Underline for emphasis on important words.
 * Bold Underline for emphasis on important words.
